INTRODUCTION.

In preparing the present catalogue, I have endeavored to give accurate and fair descriptions of the pieces, and feel confident that if there has been an error of judgment it will be found to be in underrating their condition. Although, with the limited space requisite in so large a catalogue, it is rather difficult to exactly convey the impression desired, I feel satisfied that in many instances purchasers will be agreeably disappointed.

There are many pieces to suit the cabinets of those who desire only uncirculated or very fine specimens, as well as pieces of a lower grade—with which many are satisfied.

A small collection and a number of interesting pieces have been added to Mr. Chabbuck's original cabinet, in order to make the sale more attractive. Among them, I will mention the coins of Siam, Burmah, Anam and Cambodia. I do not think the last two named grace any cabinet in the United States.

Collectors can judge for themselves, by a careful perusal of the catalogue, of the varied and interesting character of the collection.

The size of ancient coins is by the scale of Mionnet; all others by the American scale of sixteen to an inch.

For the benefit of new collectors, I append a list of descriptive terms used to assist them in forming some idea of the appearance of the pieces: Proof; Uncirculated; Very Fine; Fine; Extra or Very Good; Good; Fair; Poor.

Respectfully, JOHN W. HASELTINE,

No. 512 Walnut Street, Philadelphia.
